1960-70

Fueled by a spirit of research and experimentation, Saporiti Italia collaborated with Alberto Rosselli, an innovative Italian architect and industrial designer. This enabled Saporiti Italia to showcase its furniture internationally, characterized by its innovative design and modular industrial production concept. Notable pieces include the Jumbo chair and the Moby Dick armchair.

The company expanded internationally, targeting a wider market segment and opening showrooms globally. ‘Saporiti Italia Showrooms’: hubs of innovation and style, showcasing the finest in contemporary Italian design. Each location was meticulously curated to reflect the brand's commitment to quality and elegance, implementing a production policy emphasizing customization in furniture design.

1980-90

2000-today

Saporiti Italia embarked on an expansion phase, concentrating its development mainly in the Middle East and Asia and then in the rest of the world.
Saporiti Italia has transformed from traditional furniture retail to a project management company focused on design services. While the sale of furniture remains in its activities, the company's primary services now center around the management and creation of comprehensive interior design solutions.
